A Return On Your AG Truck Investment

Available at your local
CERTIFIED
AGRICULTURE
DEALERSHIP

You need that truck. You could buy it from any number of different stores, and get the exact same hood cash (dealer slang for incentives) no matter where you go. Buy that truck from the Certified Agriculture Dealer, get the same hood cash + as much as $32,000** in farm & ranch supply savings that you have to buy for your farm or ranch anyway. THAT is a return on investment you can use to actually write down the cost of the truck. Certified Agriculture Dealers understand that. Only Certified Agriculture Dealers can offer it.

There's a difference between Straw & Hay. Thoroughbreds & Drafts. Apples & Oranges. There's also a big difference in truck dealers these days. Only those who are Certified Agriculture have put their staff through specialty agriculture awareness training, and exclusively offer specialty agriculture benefits. They've made the investment to know you like your tractor dealer does. Not only to know what you need in a new truck, but to also know what you need when the truck's not so new.
